Principles of Inclusion

- All people have a right to live in and be part of the community.
- All people have a voice and a right to be heard.
- All people have dreams and aspirations.
- All people have capabilities and qualities.
- All people should have the opportunity to live an ordinary and valued life.
- All people should have power and control over what they do now and in the future.
- All people need friendships and independent relationships; a natural support network.

The whole community can benefit from embracing diversity.

All means EVERYONE!

TRAINING

My Fantastic Life is able to support all your Training and Development needs, from 1-1 support to large group training, offering individualised training packages to meet your needs.

As an organisation, we have years of experience of training professional carers and volunteers. All training is delivered by people who have tried and tested the methods and processes on which they are teaching. They all have their own stories of how inclusion has worked for people they support.

Training is delivered in a creative and fun manner that takes in to consideration individual learning styles.
