Description of Services

Orchard Manor, the Scope Transition Service, is specially designed for young people aged 18–25 with the most complex care support and learning needs.

We offer a stimulating, vibrant, challenging and supportive environment where young people with the most profound impairments can enhance their skills for independence, in preparation for adult life.

The three-year placement combines life and social skills training with the best possible care support, enabling young people to develop skills that will help them to live as independently as possible later on.

The Transition Service builds on the national reputation of Meldreth Manor School, which has been meeting the needs of children and young people with severe physical and learning difficulties since 1968.
