We are a six acre smallholding south of Cambridge and in this therapeutic environment, we can offer experience and rehabilitation within a real work place, focusing on the principal tasks of caring for livestock and horse care, the growing of herbs and vegetables, general horticulture and the creation of herb related products.

We are expanding our activities to include specific courses on animal husbandry, gardening skills, forestry and woodwork, painting and sculpture, food preparation and country crafts.

We aim to enable and assist those with learning disabilities (severe to mild), as well as offering vocational rehabilitation for those with mental health problems and/or those that have suffered neurological events, such as head injury or stroke. Through the use of an enabling approach, we will support individuals (co-farmers) either to regain lost skills or develop new ones.

We are able to assist individuals of all potentials, from those who will benefit purely from the experience to those who may be looking to return to work. All our activities are focused on the achievement of personal goals within a real life environment; Woodside, whilst functioning as a not for profit venture, will participate in commercial activities producing and offering for sale its produce and products. Participants will be contributors to, and beneficiaries of, a successful venture.

We are constantly expanding our services, so please watch our web site.
